To Whom It May Concern,

Reference in Support of Max Gogola

Max Gogola has been employed by me as a German language teacher in various professional collaborations over the past ten years.

Throughout this time, I have consistently found Max to be personable, reliable, and highly professional in all his undertakings. He has delivered high-quality language training to a wide range of clients, from individuals seeking to improve their German skills to major companies supporting employees and senior management with daily operations, cross-cultural communication, and business travel.

Max has worked both in person and online and has always demonstrated punctuality, flexibility, and thorough preparation. His ability to adapt content to the specific needs of each client is a particular strength.

I have absolutely no hesitation in recommending Max to anyone seeking to improve their German language skills. I would be happy to be contacted should further information or clarification be required.

Yours sincerely,
